NAUTILOS Project

New technology and data collection for improving our understanding of the marine environment

Filling the observational gaps of European Seas (Chem/Bio/DeepOcean Phy EOVs)

- By means of a new generation of cost-effective sensors and samplers
- To be integrated within observing platforms
- Long-term deployment in large-scale demonstrations in European seas

Goals & achievements:

- ✓ complement and expand current EU observation tools and services
- ✓ obtain a collection of data at a much higher spatial resolution, temporal regularity and length than currently available at the EU scale
- ✓ to further enable and democratise the monitoring of the marine environment to both traditional and non-traditional data users
